PIZZERIA
& ITALIAN
RESTAURANT

The Liberta family welcomes you and we wish to express our appreciation for your patronage. Buon Appetito!

THE BIRTH OF A RESTAURANT

Originally from Italy, Franco and Carmela Liberta were living in New York with their young family when the health of their children forced them to relocate to Clovis. With a family history of delicatessens and pizzerias, the Libertas planned on opening their own restaurant, but were met with sharp criticism from those who said they would 'never make it'.

On opening day in 1969, with no employees and borrowed money, Franco and Carmela Liberta opened Luna Pizzeria & Italian Restaurant in downtown Clovis. Despite warnings that they would fail, they persevered and their first day was such a success, that they hired a couple of their customers to begin working that evening. The Libertas worked hard throughout the years, involving their 3 children in the process as well. In time they bought the building next door and expanded the restaurant to include another dining area and a banquet room.

THE TRADITION CONTINUES

Much has changed since those humble beginnings almost 50 years ago, but the hard work, commitment to quality and great family recipes have remained. Today, Luna's is still owned and managed by the Liberta family. Although Franco and Carmela have passed away, their sons, David and Bert, continue the Luna's tradition.

At Luna's you will find many things that set us apart from the chain restaurants. As we have from the beginning, we make our own fresh bread and pizza dough daily. We also make from scratch our family recipe sauces, soups, meatballs, calzones and lasagna.
